The Shidduch Institute/Machon L'Shidduchim is comprised of a group of askanim that have come together to address the shidduch challenges facing the frum community. As a first step to addressing this issue in an effective way, they have initiated a research campaign in order to gain a clearer perspective on the various root causes of the shidduch challenges that are facing our children of marriageable age. To that end, after consultation with Da'as Torah, the Institute has developed a research platform. We encourage you to assist and participate in this initiative, as the results will help paint a clearer picture which will unify our community's energy in an organized and effective way and lead to developing prioritized, focused solutions.

We the undersigned feel that this is a proper hishtadlus and an important step to BS"D helping Klal Yisrael's next generation find their zivugim with more menuchas hanefesh and less pain and stress for them and their families.
